

Home Helpers' New Website Features Reservoir of Caregiving Tips and Resources

Cincinnati - CINCINNATI Home Helpers, one of the nation's leading senior care franchises specializing in comprehensive home care and companionship services, has launched a new, user-friendly website at www.HomeHelpers.CC specifically designed to be a resource center for people seeking tips on how to provide quality care to seniors, new and expectant mothers, and those requiring continuing and recuperative care.

The new website supports the needs of both professional and family caregivers by featuring articles, videos and resource links covering a wide range of senior-aging topics, including: specialty care for Alzheimer's, Dementia, elder abuse and heart health; important technology information and research regarding automated medication dispensers, personal emergency response systems and vital signs monitoring; as well as tips on how caregivers can maintain their own health.

"Our redesigned website provides visitors with a user-friendly tool to easily find information on caregiving topics to address their current needs", said Emma Dickison, president of Home Helpers, Caring Hearts and Direct Link. As a home care company that has been trusted by families for nearly 15 years, our mission is to be a resource for families to turn to in their time of need, whether it is helping them one-on-one in their home or providing them with the online tools and resources to live the best quality of life possible.

In addition to finding caregiving resources, visitors to the website can find information about current issues and upcoming community events in which Home Helpers is participating in to help raise awareness, including Alzheimer's, elder abuse, fall prevention and the importance of senior independence.

Home Helpers offers free in-home consultations and works with clients and their families one-on-one to tailor flexible care plans to meet their specific needs and budgets. Services offered can range from companionship and light housekeeping to personal care and limited medical services. Home Helpers is affiliated with Direct Link, a national provider of medical alert systems, including personal emergency response systems, automated medication dispensers and vital signs monitoring units.
